

->hello hello hello this is how we put the 4 litre jug into the 3 litre water

->then we put the phone I job into the 3 litre water and then the 4 litre jog into the 3 litre water and then the 5 litre Jug into the 9 litre water and then the 7 litre water into the assembled into the Assembly language is high level language and this is how we do the conversion of high level language to low level language and low level language to high level language and low and high level language and 2 level language into